COLLIS TO BE INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

Monday morning a committee, composed of some of the citizens of Mason and Lewis counties, met in the First National Bank and held a meeting, the outcome of which was decided that the committee should circulate a petition for Squire L. M. Collis, of Orangeburg, this county, asking that his name be placed on the ballot in November as an independent candidate for State Senator. The appointment of Mr. Rayburne, of Lewis county, a few days ago, to take the place of Dr. Fultz, deceased, is thought to have been the cause of the action of the committee.

HOLD FORTY HOURS DEVOTION SERVICES.

The members of St. Patrick's church are holding a forty hours devotion service this week. Several prominent clergymen are present and a series of sermons and lectures are being given each afternoon and evening. The service will come to close tonight with a procession in which the children of St. Patrick's school will participate. It is expected that a large congregation will be present this evening.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

On Monday afternoon about 2:15 o'clock, Dr. W. H. Taulbee was coming down Market street from Fourth, and as he turned into West Third street one of the front wheels of his automobile flew off, letting the machine down to the pavement. Dr. Taulbee had the vehicle under control and sustained no damages. Little injury was done the auto. A nut came loose and caused the accident.

LET'S HAVE A FEW MORE.

A few days ago on the campus of the Maysville High School a National flag was raised with elaborate ceremonies. At the present time the High School is the only school building in town that has a flag flying over it. What's the matter with the other buildings? Why have they not a flag? Let the Board of Education get together and get one for every school building in the city.

Mr. Harry P. Purnell, candidate for Representative on the Republican ticket, is in Huntington, W. Va., on business today.

MR. FRED HOPE

WITH A SPLENDID MESSAGE, TO BE HEARD AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH THURSDAY EVENING.

Mr. Fred Hope, the layman who has a thrilling message of "What God Hath Wrought in West Africa," of the Bulus turning to Christ and of establishing industrial schools, will be at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening, his address beginning promptly at 7 o'clock, in order to have his meeting over at 8 o'clock, so it will not interfere with those desiring to hear Hon. Edwin P. Morrow's speech. Hero is what one says who has heard him and is, therefore, better able to judge his address.

"Mr. Fred Hope has spoken in my church (Broadway Presbyterian) and stirred the people with his simple, straight-forward, unassuming story of hardships, cheerfully endured, and of a great work splendidly achieved, as I had never seen them stirred before. He took Ovooa by storm, where he was dubbed the 'White Hope of Africa.' On the occasion when he was to speak at an hour when other classes were supposed to be in session, he practically broke up the classes, or, rather, they broke up of their own accord, to hear him. He is a man who has done great things, and who tells an unpretentious story of his work, which mightily grips the people who hear him. We are delighted that he is to have him in this section this autumn. There will be no trouble about filling every date which he gives us.

T. A. WIGGINTON,
"Pastor Broadway Presbyterian Church, Nashville, Tenn."

PONY CONTEST TO CLOSE.

Several of the merchants interested in the pony contest have held a meeting and made all arrangements to close the pony contest as per schedule on next Thursday night, September 30. The work of counting the ballots will take place on Friday, and as soon as this is done the winner will be announced through the columns of The Ledger. The work of counting the tickets that have already been deposited in the ballot box at the Gom theater is now going on and the result will be announced as soon as completed.

There is considerable interest being manifested in the contest and it is a hard problem to guess who will be the winner. The pony and cart are really worth the effort.

The C. & O. handled two special trains of old soldiers Saturday and Sunday nights from the West, en route to Washington, D. C., to attend the National Encampment.

Pio supper at Downing school house Friday night, October 1. Everybody cordially invited. Each girl bring a pie and the boy his pocketbook.

MAYSVILLE ENTERPRISE

TWO OF OUR BOYS BUILDING UP A GOOD BUSINESS.

A few months ago two of Maysville's most worthy young men, Mr. Harry P. Purnell and Mr. Richard A. Carr, Jr., hit upon the idea of putting on merchants' pony contests. They immediately organized themselves into a company known as the "Carnell Beauty Company," and under this name began work. Today they have under operation ten pony contests in various parts of the South, and are adding to the list each week.

Last week they put on two contests and expect to double that number this week.

They have four men traveling on the road putting on these contests, and are having an unusual successful business.

We must extend our hearty congratulations to these young gentlemen and hope that their present success will continue. This shows what a little effort and pluck can do.

TO OPEN STUDIO.

Mr. Leo Christman, who has been doing the developing and printing of pictures for amateur photographers for the last few weeks at "De Nuzi," that have given so much satisfaction, will open a studio of his own in the Capron building at the old Morgan stand.

Mr. Christman is an expert in his line and will make good. He is in Cincinnati today buying an outfit.

Mr. Christman will continue to do the developing and printing for "De Nuzi," and give that same attention to this branch of the business that he has always done, if not better, as his facilities will be larger and greater.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS OF THE PASTIME IN CITY.

Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Bonies, of Marietta, O., are here this week looking over the closed Pastime theater, and they are thinking seriously of purchasing and reopening it. Mr. and Mrs. Bonies have for the last several years been engaged in the amusement business in various cities of eastern Ohio, and know the motion picture game. The movie fans of this city will have the opening of the Pastime with delight, as they feel sure that under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Bonies it will be a decided success.

SOCER FOOTBALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON.

The local soccer football fans will get a chance to see a good game of that sport this afternoon, when the sophomore and freshman class teams of the Maysville High School will kick the pugil at Lengue Park. Coach Dale for the last three weeks has been coaching these teams and now they are ready to give a public exhibition. This game will be the first of the M. H. S. Interclass League and promises to be a hot one, as each team will strive to get the lead on the others in the league race.

ANOTHER FALSE RUMOR.

Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, the county officials received a telephone message saying that a dead man was lying on the Lexington pike near the site of the old tollgate. Sheriff John Clarke and Deputy Jailer Charles Eitel went to the place and found a man who gave his name as Thomas Harrington dead—drunk. Another one of those false rumors which have been so frequent in the last week, was brought to light.

NEW FLAG OVER GOVERNMENT BUILDING.

Custodian Charles Huff, of the post office, has received his set of winter flags from the United States Arsenal at Washington, D. C., and will soon have a beautiful new flag floating over the building. The present flag is somewhat worsened by the weather and the new ones will make a decided improvement, besides adding to the beauty of the building.

MAYSVILLE HAND PRACTICING.

Monday evening in their quarters in the old skating rink, the new Maysville Brass Band held a practice. Those who were present to hear the new musical organization practice say that they are fast becoming experts and will soon be one of the best bands in this vicinity. At the present time nineteen instruments are in the band with the prospect of a few more being added.

GEORGE W. BAIN HONORED.

Colonel George W. Bain, Kentucky's silver-tongued orator, well known in Maysville, was recently honored in Chicago by being elected honorary life president of the International Locomotive Association. This is one of the largest associations in the United States, and it was quite an honor conferred upon a worthy man.

A GREAT REDUCTION

In going over our stock we find that we are OVERLOADED, and have decided to REDUCE STOCK, and it goes at cost.

This space will not permit us to list it all. One great bargain is 100,000 feet of an EXCELLENT GRADE of OAK SIDING. This goes at $2 PER HUNDRED. All other yard stock greatly reduced.

Don't miss this opportunity to get what you want in lumber and building material at the lowest prices ever known in Maysville. Terms at this reduced price are CASH.

FIFTH STREET BEING REPAIRED.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE TO ADDRESS VOTERS IN THIS CITY THURSDAY NIGHT.

Citizens of Maysville and Mason county will have an opportunity Thursday night to hear one of Kentucky's distinguished citizens and leading orators.

On that date Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor, will address the voters and present his claims to the exalted position to which he aspires.

His address will begin after the prayer meetings at the various churches are over, thus affording the church people an opportunity of hearing him and at the same time not interfering with their church services.

As Mr. Morrow is a fluent talker and knows his subject, there is no danger of any one not being entertained.

Be sure and hear him Thursday night.

CANDIDATES, GET YOUR PETITIONS READY.

But a few more days are left for prospective candidates for the city offices to get their petition signed, so that their names may appear on the ballot. In each ward candidates for Council are getting their papers signed and some hot fights are promised. The majority of the would-be members of that body are of the most progressive kind, having all needed improvements, and, if elected, promise a good government.

The warm weather has been keeping some men from getting their Fall Suits. These men should think of the advantages of getting their suits now—even if not ready to put them right on.

The time to buy is when the assortments are complete; just now you can see the line in its entirety—before the choicer things are snapped up. You are going to get a Fall Suit—sooner or later. So why not get it now?

Such famous makes as usual: R. B. Fashion, Society Brand, Stein-Bloch, Hirsh-wickwire, Michaels, Stern & Co., and Clothcraft.

The NEW DRESS FABRICS

This is a season of practical weaves and colors, no novelty weave receiving undue prominence, and to black and navy are accorded the preference often bestowed on more striking colors.

So great is the vogue for black, that many manufacturers are devoting their time entirely to the weaving of black materials.

Broadcloth has again come into its own, and all lightweight wool and silk-and-wool fabrics are fashionable. Plaids and stripes are favored.

We have a choice assortment of both silk and wool dress goods—a stock universally conceded the largest in Maysville. May we be of service to you in selecting the materials for your new dress, new suit, new blouse? Our prices cover every stop between 50c and $2.50 a yard in either silks or wools.

New Skirts, Autumn Styles, $6.50

In a variety at once broad and select—every style considered carefully before it was included in our purchase. General comment on them would be futile, therefore we have a dozen styles at one price $6.50 for specific mention. The fact that there are so many at this one price gives you an inkling of the scope of the entire stock. Cheaper skirts $5. Handsomer skirts $12.50.

STILL THEY WALK.

The controversy between the city officials and the contractors about the kind of material that will be used in the repairing of the Limehouse bridge continues and the residents of East Maysville still walk. Seems funny that the city officials and the contractors could not have thought of the needed material along in the spring when the contract was let.

LUCKY MAN.

At the last drawing of the D. Hechinger & Company, Mr. W. H. Kirk, of Elizaville, was the lucky man to get the prize. The prize is a handsome and substantial ladies' trunk. Good for Mr. Kirk. Food for the Hechinger Company.

Miss Ellen Cochran left for a visit to New York on Monday afternoon.

MORRYSTOWN, OHIO

GEORGE H. DIEHL GIVES REVIEW
OF HISTORY OF THAT SECTION
WHICH NAMES MANY OF PROM-INENT FAMILIES.

(Georgetown [O.] News Democrat.)

Two miles west of Mowrytown, on Hell's Run, George H. Diehl was born and brought up in a German home three score and ten years ago. His parents came from Germany in 1836, and were forty-two days crossing the ocean. One of their neighbors was David Mowry (originally Mauver), who owned much land on both sides of White Oak creek. On March 13, 1829, David Mowry sold to Samuel Bell a tract of land west of, and bordering on, White Oak creek, from which Mr. Bell surveyed and platted the present progressive "beauty spot" of southern Highland county, and named it Mowrytown, in honor of the original owner, David Mowry. A nephew of his living near Fincastle, who is known by everybody as "Uncle Abe" Mowry, now 83 years of age, says that he can show a posterity of five living generations. "Uncle David" was German and had many German books. He gave Mr. Diehl's parents a Bible sermon and prayer book, songbook and other religious books, among which he happened to get a German Old Testament, which is a few months over 217 years old. It has wood backs, covered with heavy leather, two clasps and brown, weather-worn edges, outside letters worn off. Mr. Diehl's father was killed by falling tree in the year 1857. His mother, Mrs. Eva Wagner Diehl, died sixteen years ago, a very devoted Lutheran Christian of four-score and four years. She enjoyed to talk about her good neighbors of Obersteinbach, Alsace, Germany. Almost all of her Obersteinbach neighbors were Roman Catholics, yet she loved them just the same. Probably all of them have been assimilated to their long home. But no doubt their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren many times heard their beloved parents talk about their Obersteinbach home beyond the sea. What seems rather strange is that about all of these good people settled in Brown county. The following were Mrs. Diehl's neighbors in Germany: The Lists, Burgers, Schweigarts, Schwalls, Schrecklers, Schatzmans, Kuntzes, Ladenburgers, Kellers and Blehns.

A number of relatives of several of those mentioned above reside in this city and county, and are among the best citizens of their respective communities.

W. A. Curtis and family, who moved from Mt. Olivet to Cincinnati two years ago, where they remained until a few months ago, when they moved to Mason county, have again moved back to Robertson county.

A train of thirty-one carloads of horses passed east over the C. & O. Sunday at noon. There were 620 horses on the train, and they were bound for the warring nations of Europe.

NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS

AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN TO BE WAGED IN KENTUCKY FOR NA-TIONAL DEFENSE.

Washington, D. C.—An aggressive campaign for national preparedness in the State of Kentucky is planned by the Navy League for the fall and winter months. Governor J. B. McCreary, one of the most sincere and enthusiastic worker for adequate national defense, has consented to become chairman of the Navy League's committee for that commonwealth and steps will be taken at once to inaugurate actual work.

Associated with Governor McCreary will be Adjutant General J. T. Ellis and Hon. L. F. Johnson, of Frankfort, as well as Mr. N. P. Bleon, of Louisville. To the state committeemen already appointed will be added from time to time committeemen from every electoral district in Kentucky, who will be appointed by Governor McCreary after consultation with the local committee.

In a letter to General Horace Porter, honorary president of the Navy League, Governor McCreary places himself squarely on record in behalf of the immediate construction of adequate national defenses and declares that in the present perilous times public interest can not be awakened too much in the development and efficiency of the army and the navy. Governor McCreary's letter is as follows:

"I heartily endorse the efforts now being made by President Woodrow Wilson in calling on the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy for the conditions of the United States army and the United States navy.

"Public interest can not be too much awakened at the present time in all matters tending to aid, improve or develop the efficiency of the army and the navy.

"I believe conditions in the United States and Europe demand that the United States army and navy shall both be increased, and I am in favor of increasing the standing army of the United States to 150,000 soldiers.

I believe, also, that the National Guard—being the soldiers of the various states—should by law be under the command of the President of the United States, with authority on his part to call them into active service when he thinks it is necessary. The National Guard should be increased to 250,000 soldiers, to be distributed among the several states, according to population.

"The United States navy should be materially increased. We should have more battleships, more cruisers and more submarines, the whole number to be fixed after careful investigation by proper naval authorities and by the naval committee of Congress."

Great interest is felt all over the state in the Navy League's campaign for adequate national defenses. The Navy League is the oldest and best organized of the National Defense Societies, and since the realization of our present undefined condition has become general, it has done splendid work all over the country in organizing sentiment in behalf of national defense. The Navy League was founded in 1901, and is in essence a society to assure the United States against the possibility of ever being invaded. The Navy League holds that since any of the powers in Europe, even those of small size and little importance, such as Servia and Belgium, with their armadas of 300,000 and 400,000, respectively, would be more than a match for any possible army which this country could consent to establish and support permanently, the welfare of the United States lies in maintaining a fleet at sea capable of holding command of the ocean at all times, and precluding the possibility of a foreign army of invasion ever being landed on America's shores.

The Navy League has state committeemen in every state, and a membership in the neighborhood of 15,000 distributed in almost every city and town throughout the country. The League believes that two Americans out of every three firmly believe in a navy sufficiently strong to hold the seas at all times against any foreign navy which may come against it, and thereby preclude the possibility of our ever being invaded, and relieve us from the necessity of maintaining a large and expensive army, such as has been for years an overwhelming burden on the backs of all European people.

As believers in every other idea and ideal are nowadays organized to forward the ends which they desire, the members of the Navy League believe that all those who believe in a powerful navy as the best means of protection for this country, ought to unite in the Navy League. The League is at present about to initiate campaigns in every state in the Union by which it hopes to secure a tremendous membership which will enable it to exercise great influence in the councils of the nation and to efficiently establish President Wilson's program for adequate preparedness against the possibility of this country's ever being drawn into the European conflagration.

Among the officers and members of the Navy League are many of the prominent and respected American citizens. Among them such men as Admiral Dewey, Dr. Lyman Abbott, Cardinal Gibbons, Theodore Roosevelt and a host of others.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says, "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from woman trouble, and doctor lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work. I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16."

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

CAPTURED LIVE RATTLESNAKE.

Mrs. W. W. Saxon, an aged lady, being in her eighty-fifth year, of Martin, Lewis county, is entitled to the palm. One day last week she noticed an empty pasteboard box in her yard making an occasional move, and knowing it was without means of transportation, made an examination and found it contained a live rattlesnake. Securing a lid, she captured the snake. She found it contained twelve rattles and a button and measured five feet three inches in length. It was sent to a friend in Manchester, who had it placed in a store window so people would not think the brand of drinkables out of the ordinary.

WHEAT—

BARN BURN

ADAMS COUNTY (O.) FARMER SUS-
TAINS A SEVERE LOSS.

Two large barns on what is known as the Station farm, on Gift Ridge, in Adams county, were burned to the ground during an electrical storm last week. They were the property of Drenan Baldwin and were situated close to each other. The greatest loss was between 10,000 and 12,000 pounds of last year's tobacco, owned by Jesse Baldwin and William Pennywitt, and between 800 and 1,000 bushels of wheat which remained in the sheaf. Much of the farm machinery was destroyed, but as it happened no stock perished in the fire.

The loss will amount to several thousand dollars, fully covered by insurance.

What is believed to be the largest silo in Brown county, Ohio, has been erected by Lieberman Brothers at the Bissant farm, southwest of Georgetown. This structure is of tile. In height it is forty-eight feet and when filled will hold 125 tons. The Bissant Brothers have been busy developing one of the most complete dairying farms in the southwest part of the county.

Violence	13

The Rev. W. M. Britt, of Burnside, this county, who was for four years pastor of Methodist church in that city, but who withdrew from the Methodist Conference at its session at Millersburg, is out in a thirty-six page booklet giving his reasons. He states that his refusal to believe in unending torment of sinners after death caused the disagreement between himself and the other ministers in the conference.

In the bee world the drone and the loafer is quickly put out of the way. But in the human family we cuss and feed him and let him rip. And this impels us to remark that the bee is a mighty intelligent little fellow.

Building Master Men

Potash, sodium, lime and iron are some of the vital mineral salts necessary to proper nourishment of muscle, brain and nerves, but are not found in proper abundance in white bread and many other foods.

Grape-Nuts

Made from whole wheat and milled barley—richly supplies these needed mineral elements and is a delicious dish served with cream or rich milk.

Grape-Nuts food is splendid for brain workers, and ideal for school children. Being partially pre-digested, it is quickly absorbed by the up-building of sinew, brain and nerves without overloading the stomach.

MAMMOTH CAVE

FOUND IN IDAHO LOCATED ON INSURVEYED LAND AND NOT KNOWN TO THE GOVERNMENT.

About twenty-eight miles from Boise, Idaho, is situated what is believed to be the largest cave in that part of the northwest, and the largest in Idaho. It measures nearly half a mile in length, that is, from its mouth to the lake. Of course, it may be that long again, but owing to the lake it is impossible to get the exact length without boat.

"My cousin, Roy Higby, and myself believed we were the discoverers of the cave when we located it and explored it early in 1908," says Richard Higby. "Let us start from the Higby ranch, twenty-two miles from Boise, for a visit to the cave. After leaving the ranch, which is a large brick house on the Boise & Mountain home road via Orchard, we cross the O. S. L. railroad, travel south a few miles, and soon we find ourselves near the entrance.

"It is absolutely invisible until we are within thirty feet of it, as the entrance is a sudden drop on the summit of a small knob and can not be seen until a person nearly falls into it. Month Forty Feet Wide.

"As we stand gazing at its large mouth, which measures forty feet wide and about four feet high, you may think it is the mouth of some unknown animal waiting the chance to gulp you down and you can nearly feel those rugged rocks hanging over-head grinding your bones, as they resemble gigantic teeth in its upper jaw.

"Upon approaching the entrance we will find a large mass of bones and driftwood. We dug into the piles only about two feet, and after finding the bones of sheep, cattle, horses, coyotes and wildcats, several buffalo skulls were unearthed.

"This bone heap is ten or fifteen feet deep, and picks and shovels are necessary to penetrate it. After passing over the bones it is necessary to stoop, while passing through the entrance. At times there are thousands of bats clinging to the ceiling.

"For the first 200 or 300 yards of it is difficult traveling, owing to the large boulders that have caved in from the roof and piled upon the floor.

"The bones of various animals, which had probably fallen prey to the numerous wildcats that make their home within, are strewn along the way. Before passing over the rocks under foot will be seen directly overhead another entrance. This cavity has also been explored by piling up rocks to form an approach and then boosting a member up it. It is quite deep, but hard going, and the members always return from it filled with fear. In fact, your knees will knock from the time you enter until you catch the first steam of the day upon returning to the surface. It seems too quiet to be safe, and one is always expecting something to reach out from a remote corner and grab him.

Large Chambers Found.
"Another peculiar formation is the large apartment-like chambers, which are both numerous and roomy. Those chambers measure up to eight feet wide and forty-five feet in height. In some places the roof drops so low between these monstrous rooms that a person is required to go on hands and knees to gain the next apartment.

"The first time we explored it there were but two of us along, and naturally we were well armed, but arms do not always subdue fear, at least they didn't quiet us nor stop a dreadful sound which we heard about half way in. It was a weird noise, and after our hair had got tired of standing and our knees were played out, we found it to be only the draft sucking with force through small crevices to the surface.

"But we are still far from the end, which is chamber after chamber away. The ground is getting damp and damp. Now we are able to see drops of water hanging to the ceiling, and what a beautiful display in many colors, caused by the light rays upon them. In other places the roof is solid lava, in other places it seems to be of a white crystallized formation. Now we are at the lake, which has blocked up from proceeding on, but the cavern continues beyond. I waded in up to my knees, but the water became so cold that I soon retreated. The atmosphere within is cold, summer and winter.

"Outside of the main entrance are several small portholes scattered about, and one day I stuck my head into one of these and decided to enter. There were six of us in the party that day, of which I was the smallest member. The hole was too small to admit me, but by beating off the edge we supposed it was large enough for me to enter. They started me down feet first, and all went well until my chest was reached.

"I soon became lodged fast. I was pulled out and they told me to take off my vest and I would be able to pass through. This done, I once more slid into the hole. In due time I was stuck once more. This time I was not pulled out, but my brother got on my shoulders and forced me through in spite of my protests. I fell about ten feet before I struck bottom, which was composed of soft dirt. Standing up, I looked blankly about and found that it was only a porthole no larger than a load of hay. It contained the carcasses of several wild cats."

Buried Treasure Story.

Of course, this cave, like many other great caves, has its buried treasure story. About 1890 the Silver City stage was held up by three highwaymen and $20,000 in bullion was taken from it. The bandits crossed Snake river at Weller's ferry, and as the authorities were close upon them, they decided to follow the river up, with they did, for a visit to the cave. After leaving the ranch, which is a large brick house on the Boise & Mountain home road via Orchard, we cross the O. S. L. railroad, travel south a few miles, and soon we find ourselves near the entrance.

"It is absolutely invisible until we are within thirty feet of it, as the entrance is a sudden drop on the summit of a small knob and can not be seen until a person nearly falls into it. Month Forty Feet Wide.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.
Who Is Carranza?

Venustiano Carranza is a comparatively weak old politician, who has achieved prominence through the military support of Villa and President Wilson's implacable hatred of Huerta, and who is kept in power by the jealousy of his subordinates, who despise him, but who are willing to recognize him as "First Chief" because they regard him as weak and incapable of maintaining his supremacy when they shall decide to terminate it.

For over two years he has preached intolerance, confiscation and hatred, even teaching his doctrine of anarchy in states which had already yielded to him without resistance. He has disrespected the strength of the army, except that might be accomplished by increasing the effectiveness of the militia. Mr. Carranza indicates that he is opposed to increasing the number of officers to be trained at West Point, although all experts on the subject point out the great desirability of trained officers to command both militia and volunteers in the event of an emergency. It is quite clear that if the President urges upon Congress any far-reaching policy of defense he will meet with strong opposition from his own party, which leads those who are informed regarding conditions in Mexico to take the blindest possible view of President Wilson's experiment.

Dumba Insults Wilson.

There is amazement in foreign diplomatic circles and chagrin among well-informed Americans because President Wilson has not handed his passport to Dr. Constantine Dumba, the ambassador of Austria-Hungary. When it became known that Dr. Dumba's recall had been requested, that official had the temerity to issue a public letter to the Secretary of State which amounted to an appeal to the people against the administration and which constituted a flagrant violation of diplomatic etiquette. Foreign ambassadors and ministers accredited to Washington are here virtually as guests of this nation. They enjoy immunity from taxes, from arrest and other privileges which could be accorded them only as guests, and they are under obligations to treat the government to which they are accredited with the utmost consideration and respect. Dr. Dumba's offense was tantamount to the action of a man who, as a guest in another's house, appealed to his host's children against their father. And now comes the text of the letter which Dr. Dumba sent home in which he refers to President Wilson as "self-willed" and as an "intruder."

"When the Spanish minister, Du Puy de Lome, referred to President McKinley, in a private letter, as a 'pot-house politician,' he was promptly handed his passport, and when Lord Sackville West, the British minister, advised a friend in a private letter, to vote the Republican ticket as better for the interests of the United States than the Democratic doctrine of tariff for revenue only, President Cleveland sent him his passport without a moment's hesitation.

Patricians, therefore, fear that the supineness with which this administration is permitting Dr. Dumba to remain in this country, after his seriously improper conduct, will only add to that contempt in which the United States is already held in European capitals. There is no reason to believe that such an exhibition of self-respect on the part of the administration would strain the relations between Austria and the United States. In fact, reports from Vienna indicate that the Austrian government does not itself approve of Dumba's conduct.

Good Men Not Wanted.

The course of the administration in dropping Nelson O'Shaughnessy from the diplomatic corps has not attracted the attention it deserved. This man, who so long served as chargé d'affaires in Mexico City, has proved himself, under the most difficult circumstances, one of the ablest diplomats in the American corps. The skill and diplomacy with which he handled affairs in Mexico City at a time when the United States was avowedly opposed to Huerta and Huerta was still president of Mexico, commanded the admiration of all foreign diplomats and it was frequently predicted that Mr. O'Shaughnessy would have a brilliant career in the diplomatic service and would doubtless render many valuable services in the future. But with that utter disregard for proved ability which has characterized this entire administration, Mr. O'Shaughnessy is displaced to make room for some "deserving friend." This policy of the administration has already borne evil fruit in the case of James M. Sullivan, a "deserving" Tammany politician whom the President appointed as minister to Santo Domingo, and who immediately became involved in such scandals that it was necessary to conduct an investigation and then drop him from the diplomatic corps. Senator Phelan (Democrat) reported that Sullivan was not guilty of any specific wrongdoing, but that "his relations with banking institutions in Santo Domingo, his manner of dealing with revolutionary disturbances, his unauthorized promises to Dominican rebels, his attitude toward the payment of his debts, his use of his position to get favors for relatives, etc.," made his removal advisable. Aside from that he was all right.

Hay and Military Preparedness.

Representative James Hay, chairman of the Military Committee of the House, has made it clear that he will vigorously oppose any sincere effort of the President to increase the strength of the army, except that might be accomplished by increasing the effectiveness of the militia. Mr. Hay also indicates that he is opposed to increasing the number of officers to be trained at West Point, although all experts on the subject point out the great desirability of trained officers to command both militia and volunteers in the event of an emergency.

DEMOCRATIC FAILURES

MONEY NEEDED TO CARRY ON GOVERNMENT WORK TIED UP.

Washington, September 28.—Vast governmental operations involving the expenditure of more than one hundred million dollars were practically paralyzed for over a month last year by failure of the Democratic Congress to properly enact necessary legislation. The "tie-up" was paramount to a strike with hundreds of thousands of men idle, according to government officials charged with expenditure of the funds controlled by the legislation. The amount was contained in what is popularly termed the "sundry civil" bill. In order to carry out the plans on which it was based, the bill had to be passed by June 30. It did not pass until more than a month later. For the intervening time none of the future work contemplated in the legislation could be started.

It would take hundreds of pages to describe the disastrous results of this needless delay. Only a mere hint can be given of the activities of the "sundry civil" bill provided for. It is one of the largest supply bills Congress handles, and included nearly four million dollars for improvements and maintenance of soldiers' homes; two and a half millions for the protection of public health; seven millions and more for keeping up life-saving stations and lighthouses; over one million for fortifications on the Panama Canal; over three and a half millions to enable the Interstate Commerce Commission to continue the physical valuation of railroads and other important activities; more than thirteen millions for building quarantine stations, hospitals and other public buildings theretofore authorized; and numerous other less striking features.

"It is imperative that funds for purposes like this shall be made available with the beginning of the fiscal year," said a government official in discussing this subject. "Every day's delay after that is nearly a total loss. Funds really ought to be ready by May 1 of each year; but to fail to provide them by July 1, and have to resort to resolutions continuing old appropriations, as Congress was forced to do in this instance, is sheer waste."

"From 10 to 15 per cent of the amount of an appropriation is a total loss if it is not passed before July 1. If the money wasted in delayed appropriations during the last four years could be made available now, we would not need to be devising ways and means to replenish the treasury. The waste would probably more than cover the estimated deficit."

The crime of delaying action on appropriation bills was emphasized by the Democrats in the recent spring session of Congress. Within thirty-six hours of the time for adjourning only two relatively unimportant appropriation bills had been enacted. Yet in the brief hours before noon of March 4, the enormous sum of about one billion dollars was authorized to be expended.

This performance was an appropriate close to a record of mismanagement that is unparalleled in the history of our government.

Great is the man who knows not his own greatness.

Let patriotism begin at home—right in this town.

The shooting scrape between Edward Whittington and William Yarnell on Saturday, in which Yarnell received serious wounds, will be given an airing in Police Court this afternoon before Police Judge John L. Whitaker. Several witnesses have been summoned and the affair will be investigated thoroughly.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The time of the court was taken up Monday with the hearing of the case of the Commonwealth vs. Lewis Payne, charged with cutting another when in a heated passion. Payne was handed $50 and costs. It will be remembered that Payne cut John Randolph several months ago in Pilgrim's alley when Randolph asked him to stop bothering his wife. Not having the money, Payne was sent to jail.

Squire Fred W. Bauer had one lone case before him Monday, Andrew Beasley, who was arrested Saturday by Prison Guard James Clark on the charge of being drunk. After hearing the particulars of the case the Squire fined him $5.15.

Squire Fred W. Dresel fined George Washington Curry, of cake-walk fame, $5.15 for being drunk and disorderly Monday.

KNIFE-WIELDER HANDED HEAVY DOSE.

Edward Stewart, colored, of this city, was tried in the Mason Circuit Court Monday on the charge of cutting with intent to kill. Stewart was charged with cutting Edward Barlow, another negro, while in an argument, near Third and Wood streets a few months ago. In the testimony it was proven by a letter to Stewart's mother, which it is claimed the guilty man wrote, saying that he was not sorry for his deed, as he thought that he had done his duty, as some one had killed his brother and that he felt as if he must kill some one to even up matters. The court gave Stewart the indeterminate sentence of from one to three years in the Kentucky State Penitentiary.

GRANT HOWARD GIVEN FROM ONE TO THREE YEARS IN PRISON—PAL OF NEGRO WHO WAS SHOT AND KILLED BY OFFICER BLOOMHUFF A FEW MONTHS AGO.

Monday in the Circuit Court the trial of Grant Howard, aged 24, of Atlanta, Ga., one of the negro bandits who staged a gun-fight with Officer Deleer Bloomhuff a few months ago, in which Jerry Lewis, Howard's pal, received his death wound from a pistol in the hands of Officer Bloomhuff, was given a sentence of from one to three years in the penitentiary.

Howard was charged with shooting with intent to kill. He made the plea that he was forced to shoot at Bloomhuff, because of a threat made by Lewis that if he did not shoot the policeman he (Lewis) would shoot him (Howard).

In giving his testimony Howard stated he did not want to shoot Bloomhuff but fired his gun in the air.

THE SHOWS.

The sixth chapter of the serial, "The Diamond From the Sky," was shown at the Gem Monday afternoon and evening. The title of the film was "Shadows and Sunrise," and some fine acting by the principal characters was the feature of the film. A splendid Lubin film, "Destry's Skin," was also shown. Special music was rendered.

At the Washington Opera House "Neal of the Navy," the new serial that takes the place of the popular "Elaine" series, which ran for nearly a year at the Washington, was shown for the first time Monday evening. The film bids fair to take the place of the Elsie pictures. A Paramount travel series film was shown, which was both interesting and educational. As a special feature $5 was given away after each show.

For the last month workmen have been busy on the front of the P. J. Murphy building, on West Second street, pinching a new front in the same. The front is now completed, and is very pretty. But the show windows of the building are being completed, being the prettiest thing in that line in this vicinity. Monday night they were lighted up for the first time and the comments that were passed on them are too numerous to mention, all being unanimous in saying that they are a credit to Maysville and Mr. Murphy's good taste.
